visors are calling at houses and tene nents, where they make many inquiries regarding the men of the households, particularly as to their politics. They have obtained the destred information in many lustances from women and children, servants and lanitors while in other cases, where they have found the man of the house at home, importment querists have been kicked out of doors.

The avowed object of this catechetical visitation is to detect and punish any attempts at illegal registration. The sincerity of this claim is made questionable, however, by the invariable attempt to learn whether the voter about whom implies is nade is a bemoerat or a Republican, as that fact could have no legal bearing on a main's right to register, and is a matter into which the Federal Super-to register.

Then, the Demogratic leaders assert, it is the intention of Dave Martin and the other Republican managers to watch the registry lists and on the last day of registration to have Republican colonizers personate at the registry offices every voter whose mane is on the lists and who is not likely to be on hand himself.

It is aimost needless to add that every hame thus gotten on the registry lists will be voted early on election horning.

Tuts plan, it has been learned, has been worked with great success by "Bave" Martin's games in Philadelphia, and Democratic managers believe it is to be attempted on a large scale in New York this year. In the uptown districts, where the population has increased so rapidly in the last two years, they recken that the Democratic captain's caunot personally know all the voters in their election districts and, the acheme, they think, can be practised safely and successfully.

areless talk by bibulous canvassers has revealed the plot in time, and measures have been taken which, it is practically certain-will lodge in jail any would-be colonizer who attempts to personate a genuine voter. Democratic leaders say they will heed the kepublican cry to 'Watch the registry lists. to the discomfiture of Martin and his heelers.
